

SNOW GUIDE:

THE HOTTEST COLD SPOTS IN SW IDAHO

SW Idaho is all about getting out and exploring, and that doesn't stop when it snows. From warm springs to awesome downhill thrills, Southwest Idaho has a snow adventure for you. No more hibernating — let's go explore what Southwest Idaho has to offer!

START YOUR ADVENTURE WITH HOT SPRINGS

SW Idaho has some of the best natural warm springs in the world. From guided tours to do-it-yourself adventures, you haven't experienced winter until you are in the mountains surrounded by snow... in swimming shorts. There are so many to choose from, but here are our favorites:

GOLD FORK HOT SPRINGS
ROYSTONE HOT SPRINGS
GIVENS HOT SPRINGS

PURE PARADISE

If you're looking for fun in the snow, then SW Idaho is the place for you. McCall, ID gets an average of 132 inches of snow a year! The snow starts in November and lasts until May — sometimes even into June! If you are looking for some great snow, look no further. Whether you want to find skiing, snowboarding, snowshoeing, snowmobiling, cross country skiing, ice fishing, or just a little sledding, you need to take a trip. Head up HWY 55 to McCall or HWY 21 to Idaho City and find your bliss.
